VillageFest is a one-day music festival that gives local musicians a chance to give back to their community while inviting in a few out-of-town bands to share their talents as well. In 2006 at the first VillageFest, all of the money raised went to a family with a daughter in a wheelchair that couldn't afford to purchase a handicap-accessible vehicle. Another year, we helped a little girl at Tecumseh Middle School who needed a kidney transplant. Two years ago, we helped a local student chapter of Invisible Children. Last year we helped a family build a ramp for their newly paralyzed son. This year, we plan on helping Jonathan Poynter who has cerebral palsy by raising money to assist his family in purchasing a new lift for their van.
